2.0 Replacement Products

Important Information

There is no replacement for this interface. It is a programming device for the DSE5xx, DSE5xxx, DSE42xx and DSE7xx control modules. These are all old DSE products that have been obsolete for a number of years. The latest generation DSE products do not require this interface and are connected to a PC via a USB cable only.

If you require any further information please contact your Business Development Manager or our Sales Department (sales@deepseaelectronics.com), who will be happy to answer any questions you may have.

Many Thanks,

DSEMarketing.
